2020 Annual Report

Dear Friends & Supporters of KWT,

We are delighted to share with you our 2020 Annual Report after months of hard work by the team to put it together.

Throughout 2020, KWT maintained resilient programmes, a wonderful team, and strong partnerships. These all contributed to increased impact, achieved in the face of the greatest challenges of our generation. In March 2020, Kenya recorded its first COVID-19 case. In the weeks following that announcement, tourism ground to a halt, the country was locked down and several restrictions were put in place to curb the spread of the coronavirus. The COVID-19 pandemic continues to have a devastating effect on human lives, society as a whole, and the global economy. We have prioritised keeping our people and the communities we work with safe, supporting our partners, and maintaining our core operations.

In 2021, KWT is excited to work with new partners nationally and globally, both to turbocharge our existing work and to set new paradigms for what we and a wider group of stakeholders can achieve in permanently securing sustainable flora and fauna in Kenya's cherished wildlife areas.

With warm wishes,

Irene Amoke
